

BOW VALLEY RESOURCE

Including Arrowwood, Milo, Queenstown, Shouldice and Mossleigh

Volume 5, No. 6

ARROWWOOD, ALTA., OCT. 24, 1935

Subscription $2.00, U.S.A. $2.50

Football

The Arrowwood Senior Rugby team goes into action here Saturday afternoon at 2:30 versus the Milo Seniors. Come out and see the boys in action.

Boxing Match at Gleichen Draws A Large Crowd

The boxing match promoted by the Gleichen Gunners and held last week in Gleichen created a great deal of sporting enthusiasm among fans of this district. A capacity crowd was on hand showing that the card held the spotlight over any other event in the community.

The feature bout of the evening saw George Roberts of Arrowwood beat Gordon Thompson of Black Diamond opposing each other for the Western Canadian Championship. Considerable speculation on the outcome was evident at the onset but the bout was only fairly well underway when Gordon Thompson, the champion took advantage of an opening to win the bout by a knock-out in the third round. In the 1st round the challenger, Roberts, was very much the aggressor and practically doubled the blows which he received from Thompson. It appeared as though Roberts had the best of this round. At the beginning of the second round Thompson landed a hard blow to Roberts and both frequently clinched. During the clinches the champion was wearing Roberts' glove by spectacular close-in punches. Roberts seemed a little bewildered in this round and was cautiously trying to decide the best mode of attack. The second round was in Thompson's favor. In the 3rd round Roberts lost his balance when he slipped on the canvas and Thompson quick to take advantage, sent the popular Arrowwood boxer to the floor with a hard blow to the jaw. George hit the floor hard with his head and was counted out to end the fight.

Although Roberts lost the bout he feels that he can still give Thompson a good battle and is looking forward to another engagement.

In the third semi-final bout young Wilson gave the fans an amusing demonstration of ring tactics to score a knock-out over Archie Roberts in the second round of a scheduled 6 round bout. Wilson was calm and resourceful throughout the war fight to clearly demonstrate his superiority.

The second preliminary was a bloody affair with Charlie Smith of the Blackfoot Reserve winning the decision over Alvin Garraway of Arrowwood in a bout which went the full route. Slugging freely and mixing it up throughout both bouts.

(Continued on Page Four)

Brethren Church Notes

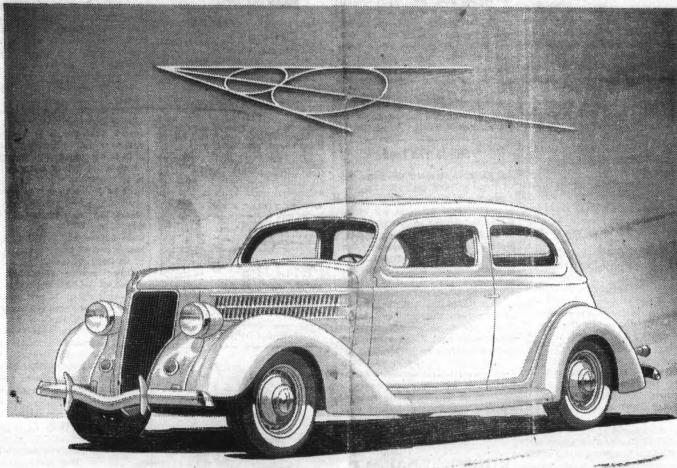

Sermon by the pastor on Sunday morning.

Leroy Graham of Cluny will be the speaker at the Sunday evening service.

The young people held a class meeting in the church basement on Tuesday evening.

Rev. Bernard H. Suttle who has recently assumed the pastorate of the first Irricana Church, was the speaker at the Thanksgiving service on Thursday. Rev. Mr. Wilkinson also had part in the services.

THE MODERN CAR

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?

What is new about it?

Of course, the newest engine in the low-priced field is still the V-8 engine. Still, Ford made it possible to all car users, finding it as economical on cars with lower cylinders the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised features "with the car thrown in"—but, after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list.

Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are longer, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

In more practical matters, many improvements have been made.

Sleering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 4½ gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermosyphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New style hood louvers permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears

—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, tool-proof, mechanical design.

Safety, as always—in the electrically operated running steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. Get complete details at your nearest Ford dealer.

LOW FORD V-8 PRICES

TEN BODY TYPES—Coupe (5 windows), $668.

Tudor Sedan, $675. Fordor Sedan, $785.

DELUXE—Roadster (with rumble seat), $725.

Coupe (3 windows), $725. Coupe (8 windows),

$710. Phaeton, $735. Cabriolet (with rumble seat), $815. Tudor Touring Sedan (with built-in trunk), $795. Fordor Touring Sedan (with built-in trunk), $835.

T.O. R. (Touring Coupe). Bumper, open bar ends extra. All Ford V-8 body types have Safety Glass throughout at no additional cost. Convenience, economical terms.

MILO NOTES

Miss Lillian Porter from Calgary is planning to stay in Milo for the winter months to take over dress-making. She has had considerable training along this line and has worked in Calgary for the past five years.

There will be a dance held in the Milo L.O.O.F. Hall Wednesday. The orchestra will be Scarlet Serenaders from Lethbridge.

Margaret Thomas has returned to Toronto after a two weeks vacation with her parents in this district.

The newly wed, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones returned from Calgary last Friday evening.

Judge Criticizes Debt Legislation In Saskatchewan

Says Adjustment Act Has Had Lamentable Effect on Credit

The following article was taken from "The Financial Times" and the same act applies in Alberta.

Primer Albert—Denunciation of the Saskatchewan Debt Adjustment Act as a piece of legislation which has had a lamentable effect on the credit of this country and which, he believes, has resulted in many cases of turning honest debtors into dishonest ones, was contained in a judgment of Judge A. E. Dork of the District Court here, dealing with a case of damages tried before him. The conditions laid before him in the case, the judge commented, revealed an intolerable situation brought about by arbitrary action of the Debt Adjustment Board. He declared the matter was one of public interest and he could not refrain from expressing his disapproval of the whole scheme of the debt adjustment legislation if the country and the rights of creditors were to be at the mercy of the findings of a board which apparently exercised its discretion upon a mere whim.

The action in which the judge gave the decision embracing the criticism of the debt adjustment scheme, was between K. G. Bjedland, plaintiff, and O. S. Bjedland, defendant, both of the Brooksfield district. The plaintiff sought to recover $283.63 for damages suffered due to a fire set by the defendant in April, 1933, which destroyed a granary and a large amount of wheat.

Bjedland said that on May 2, 1933 he had given the plaintiff a note for $327 to satisfy the damage claim and that the plaintiff had no right to bring action on the original claim. The judge found plaintiff less $75.53 recovered by him from the elevator, leaving a balance of $260 and costs of the action.

In reviewing the case Judge Dork pointed out that at the hearing he had inquired why the plaintiff had not sued on the promissory note given by the defendant and had learned by remarks by the counsel that the reason was that the Debt Adjustment Board had refused him permission to do so.

"If this statement is correct, and I have no reason to doubt its accuracy," the judge observed, "it reveals an intolerable situation brought about by the arbitrary action of the Debt Adjustment Board.

"The question of the defendant's ability to pay the amount does not arise, and the only reason given for the refusal of the board to issue a permit was that I had just stated. It is perhaps outside my province to make any comment upon this particular phase of the present action, but the matter is one of public interest and I cannot refrain from expressing my disapproval of the whole scheme of the debt adjustment legislation if the business of the country and the rights of creditors are to be at the mercy of the findings of a board which apparently exercises its discretion upon a mere whim."

There is no reason why the parties could not have had a

(Continued on Page Four)

which can substitute for producer-controlled

CO - OPERATIVE MARKETING

In aiding the interests of all grain growers

Alberta Pool Elevators is Alberta's only elevator system owned, controlled and operated by Alberta grain growers for the benefit of Alberta agriculture.

Join the Throng Who Patronize

Alberta Pool Elevators

Tea at its Best

"SALADA"

TEA

Recreation A Vital Necessity

Ever since some authority discovered and told the world that every man should have a hobby, the hobby has been relegated at intervals by later authorities with varying degrees of enthusiasm and sometimes by those who are interested in providing some form of amusement or recreation.

Whether uttered, whether with or without an ulterior motive, the assertion is one which has a sound foundation in psychology and human experience. It is first cousin and as well founded as that more popularly known saying:

"Work and play; work and play; a dull life."

With a hobby or recreation, a valuable adjunct to work for man at all periods of his progress from the cradle to the grave, in at least two stages of his life, youth and in old age, it is an absolute essential if he is to achieve the goal of life—happiness.

The word recreation gives a clue to the reason. Re-creation, the making over again of the individual as he seeks relaxation from the "trivial" routine of daily existence.

Unless a man is content to be a dull chod, he must refresh and re-create himself by seeking relaxation in some pursuit which, for the time, will lift him above the cares and worries incidental to earning his daily bread and providing for the needs of those dependent upon him. He needs some interest, which will infuse rest into aching limbs or brush away the cobwebs from his brain.

In youth this diverse interest may take the form of athletics, mechanical activity and with a minority, some more sedentary type of relaxation but no matter what form it may take, it is essential to the development of sound, robust citizenship, that youth should be allowed time for recreation.

The lad or young man without a hobby is apt to become morbid and unbalanced. He is likely to be a period of supreme physical energy and this overflowing vivacity should be channelled to express itself in forms of healthy recreation, and if it can be used as a step ladder to a life vocation, it is that much more to the good.

Many a youth has "found" himself in the pursuit of a hobby. History is full of stories of boys and young men who made good in later life because they were allowed to follow their bent and of many more who have had to face overwhelming obstacles and discouragements. By means encourages the young man to take up some interest, apart from his daily work and chores.

And if a hobby is essential to youth it is vital to old age. There is no more pitiful sight than the old man whose physical powers have waned and who has no interest in life or in himself. Such a man is a burden to himself and to those whom he comes in daily contact.

But the old man who has built up an interest secondary to the life work which he pursued in his prime is spared these pains and penalties of advancing years. As he becomes physically enfeebled he is able to turn his hand and his mind to a pursuit which daily grows in fascination, because it can be said to grow with him. The hobby which develops in old age is often the greatest he has ever known. He is deeply comforted and makes himself with whom he comes in daily contact.

But the old man who has built up an interest secondary to the life work which he pursued in his prime is spared these pains and penalties of advancing years. As he becomes physically enfeebled he is able to turn his hand and his mind to a pursuit which daily grows in fascination, because it can be said to grow with him. The hobby which develops in old age is often the greatest he has ever known. He is deeply comforted and makes himself with whom he comes in daily contact.

Moreover, the man who devotes his interests beyond his life's vocation, to the duration of his life, when life is in the full is likely to have an old age in which to further develop his hobbies. It need not necessarily be something apart from his daily work. It may well be something related to it, in which event its pursuit will yield additional interest and perhaps more tangible dividends in the task of making a living.

Receive Cordial Welcome

Employees On Bessborough Estate Glad Family Is Home

The Earl and Countess of Bessborough and their family received a cordial welcome from employees of their estate when they returned to their home, Bessborough Park, Hampshire, England.

The earl has just completed his term as governor-general of Canada.

Flags waved as the Bessborough's car passed beneath an archway of flags bearing the words "welcome".

An address of welcome was presented.

Parents and children from the estate were entertained at tea and a bonfire concluded the celebrations.

All spiders are short-sighted.

First Bicycle in Bavaria

Built In 1864 It Is Made Entirely Of Wood

Bavaria's first bicycle, built by the famous German sports instructor, Johann Friedrich Treitz, has been exhibited by the Deutsches Museum at Munich. The bicycle is made entirely of wood, and was designed and built by Treitz in 1864. Peasants, when they first saw him pedalling the wooden machine along the road around Munich, called it "butcher-dog" and after a few days, stopped and watched themselves. Treitz only managed to overcome Bavarian prejudice after he had built an indoor bicycle hall in Stuttgart to "introduce Germans to the bicycle."

Compiling Jewish Dictionary

Will Be First One Ever Prepared For Publication

Declared to be the first dictionary of the Jewish language ever compiled and being prepared for publication by the head of the Jewish Protestant Culture of the Soviet Russian Academy of Sciences, according to a report from Moscow. It will be issued in three volumes. The White Russian State Publishing House is also preparing a parallel Jewish translation of the world's literary classics. Among the first to appear will be Shakespeare's "Othello" and "Romeo and Juliet" and Schiller's "William Tell."

Customer—"Are those eggs strictly fresh?"

Grocer (to his clerk)—"Feel of those eggs, George, and see if they're cool enough to sell yet."

Heading the best sellers among Braille books published by the National Institute for the Blind in Great Britain are the Bible and an Edgar Wallace novel.

Assistance Will Be Given Alberta Government To Help Exhibitors At Winter Fairs

Alberta Government will once again assist seed grain exhibitors at the Toronto Royal Fair and Chicago International this fall. For the Royal Fair, entry fee and shipping costs to Toronto will be paid on boys' and girls' entries only. Return shipping costs will not be paid.

At Chicago International Hay and Grain Show, where Alberta has made such an outstanding record in seed grain entries in past 10 years, the government will pay shipping costs on approved exhibits. Prize money in the regular grain sections at Chicago won by Alberta exhibitors will be duplicated by the government.

In the case of one or more first prizes or championships being taken, a special bonus of $50 will be granted, which will be increased to $100 in the case of championships in the oilseed or barley.

The provincial legislature will as possible supervise the arrangements for the exhibits.

Still In The Lead

No Book So Sudsy Read As The Biblio

The Bible of the present generation is the outcome of centuries of research and patient effort. It contains 66 books in one, covering history, psalms, law, prophecies, romance, law, geography, poems and letters delivered as correspondence. Men like King George read a part of it every day for guidance and encouragement in their tasks; Sun Yat Sen, Chinese follower of the Buddha, read it in India, perched over it and were moved to their destiny by its teaching. It is read in palaces and in mud huts. Each year the Biblical societies of the world sell 200 million copies, in hundreds of languages. In spite of supposed religious indifference it is the most read book in the world.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

will result in headaches, backaches, broken sleep, and a tired, listless feeling during the day. Attributing any of these symptoms, take Gin Pills for prompt, safe relief.

You'll feel better, look better and sleep sounder.

Remember the name

GIN PILLS
FOR THE KIDNEYS

Cheat Grass New Menace

RANGE PASTURE IN KAMLOOPS AREA SHOW GROWTH OF WEED

A warning is given by Dr. S. E. Clarke, of the Range Experiment Station at Mervinberg, Alta., of the spread of cheat grass, which has proven to be a troublesome weed in Montana. It has been found in range pastures in the Kamloops area. At other points it appears in waste places and along railway tracks. In appearance it resembles dawd wild oats.

Berlin cleans its streets of oil droplets by motor vehicles by shooting jets of live steam, generated by portable boilers, over the surface.

The use of bright colors at Easter is symbolic of the rays of the aurora and the dawning rays of the Easter sun.

Chickens tattooed with wing

for CHAPPED SKIN

Dilute Minard's with one-half sweet oil or cream. Apply to cracked skin.

Use the Liniment freely and 25 No trouble. Very healing!

MINARD'S

"KING OF PAIN"

LINIMENT

FOR COUGHS

Colds Bronchitis

Mathieu's

Syrup

PATENTS

A List Of "Wanted Inventions" And

Full Information Sent Free On Request.

The RAMSAY Co. Ltd. 2123 BANK St.

OTTAWA, ONTARIO, CANADA

Now Science Explains Why So Many People

Past 40

Feel That They're Slipping Losing Their "Grip" on Things

By JAMES H. DODD

Illustrated by RICHARD L. STONE

From "The Saturday Evening Post"

Copyright © 1937 by Curtis Publishing Company

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

PRINTED IN U.S.A.

BY THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

MADE IN U.S.A.

© 1937 PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

MADE IN U.S.A.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

MA

All the Vitamins of COD LIVER OIL
PLUS
Bone Building MINERALS

Cod Liver Oil when digested supplies many necessary elements for proper growth of body and bones. Scott's Emulsion contains Cod Liver Oil and the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, prepared for easy digestion and assimilation, and to aid bone development, without the unpleasant taste of Cod Liver Oil.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
 THE DIGESTIBLE COD LIVER OIL
 WHICH HAS PLUS VALUES
 For Sale by
 YOUR DRUGGIST

45B

MISS ALADDIN

By
 Christine Whiting Farmerter
 "One Wide River To Cross"
 "The Unknown Port," etc.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a gay, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond her own pleasure. She turns her comb-out party, suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgence in the good things of life, his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. All the while she is in love with a boy from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home which seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration, Captain Columbus, the boy's stepfather, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge.

Nancy set out to offend him, to claim he was up to a lot as she can view of the surrounding Indians. But Captain Columbus' son, Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matt, then a boy. Nancy asks him where to go to see him. "They're going to do what she did—Well, all I can say is that my pioneer mother would have been proud of her!"

Matt noted with pleasure that Miss Columbus spoke with her accustomed bluntness.

"You must go home to-day, Matthew," she said later. "It's been a comfort knowing you were here; but your father needs you, and I'll not be habited any longer."

"I've had orders per telephone, to stay on duty a day longer. Mark's on his way in from Prairie Ranch right now." Nancy, coming down the steps, to take in his horse, incidentally, cut open a new ear!

That's one good thing came out of this blizzard, Miss Columbus: we're practically forced to buy a decent coat.

Mark's coat is the best in town.

Mark's coat is the best in town.

Jack Nelson, Matthew, Adam, and Nancy go to the prairie home of Captain Columbus. They find the old man and Nancy and Jack leave for home, they are caught in a blizzard. Blinded by the snow, they are lost, and end up in a bus full of school children, which was stalled across the road with its back wheel off the road, and the front wheel off the road. Their car being wrecked, Jack and Nancy stay with the children and do all they can to help them. After Jack sets out for help in the blizzard. He succeeds in finding help, and the other children and parents are rescued. As a result of the exposure Nancy's feet are badly frozen and Jack is left with them, recovering, but both of them recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXI.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she questioned when, after a time, the question ended. "A doctor emerged from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson, and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his parents will not reach her in time to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too, not to harrow them with the knowledge of how dark the prospects look just now! If he lives through the night the boy will probably recover.

He's putting up a magnificent fight; and every minute the doctor in the hospital is working with him, anyway. I don't say that his condition isn't desperate; but somehow I've got the conviction that he'll make the grade."

Miss Columbus did not leave the hospital that night; nor did she close her eyes till early morning when a nurse appeared to say that Jack seemed to have turned the corner and his physician felt the worst was over. Then she went to the lady and lady cry a little, and the doctor ordered a powder that brought sleep. It was almost noon when she heard a rap upon her door, and Matthew had entered the room.

"Did I wake you, Miss Columbus?"

"No; I was only snoring. How's everything now, Matt?"

"Your momma is down on the bed, and I'm going to get some coffee."

"Jack's sleeping—naturally. Nancy isn't suffering this morning; and it looks as if the kids were coming without a single amputation. That Oregon boy has been doing what he promised. I thank you, Matt Columbus; I take off my hat to Jack and Nancy—and to some of those brave youngsters too."

"I guess the papers didn't exaggerate when they said he was dead."

"You're right. But just the same, I miss my guess if it's not some shock to those young relatives; of yours when they read the story! How do you feel about it, Matt? Miss Columbus, to have the country regard you as heroic?"

"Well, it won't hurt either of 'em," responded the old lady. "They've got the Nelson common sense. It's I who's been the fool, I suppose. The thought of the courage it must have taken for a boy to start out in the teeth of such a storm, especially when the driver had disappeared. And Nancy's big bright smile at who's ever good for us, she's a real girl to do what she did—Well, all I can say is that my pioneer mother would have been proud of her!"

Matt noted with pleasure that Miss Columbus spoke with her accustomed bluntness.

"You must go home to-day, Matthew," she said later. "It's been a comfort knowing you were here; but your father needs you, and I'll not be habited any longer."

"I've had orders per telephone, to stay on duty a day longer. Mark's on his way in from Prairie Ranch right now." Nancy, coming down the steps, to take in his horse, incidentally, cut open a new ear!

That's one good thing came out of this blizzard, Miss Columbus: we're practically forced to buy a decent coat.

Mark's coat is the best in town.

Mark's coat is the best in town.

Jack Nelson, Matthew, Adam, and Nancy go to the prairie home of Captain Columbus. They find the old man and Nancy and Jack leave for home, they are caught in a blizzard. Blinded by the snow, they are lost, and end up in a bus full of school children, which was stalled across the road with its back wheel off the road, and the front wheel off the road. Their car being wrecked, Jack and Nancy stay with the children and do all they can to help them. After Jack sets out for help in the blizzard. He succeeds in finding help, and the other children and parents are rescued. As a result of the exposure Nancy's feet are badly frozen and Jack is left with them, recovering, but both of them recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXII.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she questioned when, after a time, the question ended. "A doctor emerged from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson, and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his parents will not reach her in time to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too, not to harrow them with the knowledge of how dark the prospects look just now! If he lives through the night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXIII.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she questioned when, after a time, the question ended. "A doctor emerged from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowledge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXIV.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXV.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXVI.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXVII.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXIX.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXX.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXXI.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXXII.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXXIV.

The days that followed etched new lines in Columbine Nelson's face, only a few hours after her sending off to Massachusetts. Jack took an unexpected turn for the worse.

"Shall I send for his people?" she

questioned when, after a time, the

question ended. "A doctor emerged

from the boy's room.

"I should wait," he answered. "If

Jack were my own son, Miss Nelson,

and I so far away, I should say the same. But he's not my son, and his

parents will not reach her in time

to see him; it's kinder, and wiser too,

not to harrow them with the knowl-

edge of how dark the prospects look

just now! If he lives through the

night the boy will probably recover.

Now Go With The Story

CHAPTER XXXV.

The days that followed etched new lines in Colum

Rogers

ALL WAVE
BATTERY SETS

Tune in the World

With the BT30 Mantel and BT35 Console

Three Bands Cover All Broadcasts
More Power With 7 Metalized Spray Shield Tubes
Separate Battery for dial light, lasts 2 years
Large Aeroplane Type Dial and vernier tuning knobs
New Tone Quality, Automatic Volume Control
Very Selective

WEST END GARAGE

Arrowwood, Alta.

ARROWWOOD ITEMS

Mrs. E. J. Liesemer and her daughter arrived home last week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Furlong, of Vauxhall, spent a few days last week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Leith.

Jim Mooney met with a rather painful accident Wednesday, when he was thrown from a horse, dislocating his shoulder.

Rev. Fred Chapman, of Rockyford, will preach in the United Church next Sunday at 11:45 a.m. Rev. J. N. Wilkinson will go to Rockyford that day, where he will conduct anniversary services.

That the Arrowwood boxers are popular is evident with the latest card seeing George Roberts opposing Joe Bosley and Alvin Garraway — opposing Arnold Kimble at Rainier, Nov. 8th.

Harry Sharland, local agent for the Searle Grain Co. was transferred this week to the Company's elevator at Byemore. The regular grain buyer at that point met with a minor accident and Harry will be relieved temporarily.

Arrangements are progressing to make the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 30th both pleasant and profitable, when Mossliegh citizens join with Arrowood, in Phillips' Hall, to welcome Mr. Peter Dawson, M.L.A. on his first business visit on behalf of the new government.

The Okotoks Review of Oct. 18th carried an account of an address delivered by Mr. J. R. Shearer of Black Diamond, to the Corinthian Masonic Lodge at Okotoks. The thoughtful address was entitled, "Citizen in Clay." It was a comparison of teaching the child to that of a sculptor who models in clay. About 125 members and visitors attended the address.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this way of expressing my sincere appreciation to my loyal supporters for the work done prior to election and to the electors who so loyally supported me at the polls.

GEORGE G. COOTE

IT'S HERE! IT'S NEW!

A new brand makes its debut -- and takes its place "in the sun," along with the other brands of

ALBERTA'S FAMOUS BEERS

E D E L W E I S S

... a Beer of superb flavor -- brewed from an old "Vienna Style" formula. And like the beautiful Alpine flower from which it takes its name -- it is the symbol of purity.

IT'S SMOOTH! IT'S RICH!

Try It Today

... in bottles only at your favorite hotel or club ... or order a case direct from our warehouse at Bassano

Thursday, October 24th being Thanksgiving Day, our warehouse will be closed

Distributors Limited

Agents of the Brewing Industry of Alberta

Rugby football is creating considerable interest among the young men of the town at the present. Already the high school boys have done considerable playing, and they hope to soon play Mills or Gleichen. The senior team have been practising in the curling rink during the inclement weather.

On the evening of October 17th Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were the hosts of several friends of Mr. George Duncan, who met at their invitation, in honor of Mr. Duncan's seventeenth birthday. Singing, games and contests were heartily entered into by all present, after which a very dainty lunch was served by the hostess. At this time Mr. Duncan was made the recipient of a gift, as a reminder of the very special occasion. The guests then departed, all declaring that they had spent a most enjoyable time.

The Young People of the Brethren Church held a combined business and social meeting in the church basement on Tuesday, Oct. 22. The first part of the evening was spent in playing games and contests, after which the business meeting was held. The following officers were elected for the coming season: President, Edwin Beagle; Vice-President, Hurley Williams; Sec-Treas., Chester Arnsby; Social Committee, Sarah Duncan, Eugene Burris; Dorothy Brown, Rosemary Lord and Melvin Bowman has been elected teacher for this year.

Judge Criticizes

(Continued from page 1) the questions at issue between them decided by the courts so that Justice could be done both to the plaintiff and to the defendant.

"Thus, whether the action was based upon a note or upon the original claim for damages the defendant's right with respect to the wheat could have been determined.

"It is perhaps unnecessary for me to add anything further in this respect, but I may observe that, in my opinion, the wisdom of the whole debt adjustment legislature of this Province, ifsofar as it affects the ordinary creditors, is open to question.

"I have very good reason to believe that in many cases the result of this legislation has been merely to convert honest debtors into dishonest ones, and this development is not likely to be diminished by the administration of the act if the present case is a fair criterion.

"The effect, moreover, of this class of legislation upon the general credit of the country is lamentable. The reason for financial and business institutions refusing to advance money to others for their legitimate needs is not far to seek because such institutions and almost their only securities is hypothetical honesty of those to whom they make advances.

"I do not wish to be understood as criticizing the legislation which I have no doubt has been passed in good faith with the people of the Province. In any event it is not the duty of the judiciary to express any opinion adverse to any statute, and if it were not a matter of such important public interest I should hesitate to do so."

Boxing at Gleichen

(Continued from page 1) showed plenty of stamina to take the offerings of each other but Smith was slightly the favorite at the final bell.

In the first bout of the evening Boxing Round of Gleichen opposed Gordon Yellowbird and Peter matching each other for four rounds the bout was considered a draw. The decision was a very unpopular one with fans.

Although having nothing to do with the above card, Promoter Sam Moss of this district, deserves much credit for his efforts in reviving interest in boxing circle but it is regretted very much that the Gleichen Gunners Hockey Club took this bout out of his hands. It is our belief that with careful training and coaching our local boxers would show vast improvement.

Farm Lighting Plants

PRINCE-O-LITE

Made in either 8-volt or 32-volt size

Harness the wind that you and your family may have the comforts of your city cousins. No power is cheaper than the power that is generated by the wind.

Also Propellers and Generators

FOR PARTICULARS SEE

Henry Anderson

AGENT :: ARROWWOOD

RCA VICTOR Battery RADIO

Look at what you get!

Super-heterodyne

Full vision dial

Highly sensitive

Good tone quality

Extra-economical operation

Lovely cabinet of walnut veneers

It's not price alone that counts in a battery set. But when you get low price and a radio backed by the experience of a radio engineer you are assured of outstanding value. This great little set equipped to handle the new Air Cell batteries which eliminates battery recharging. Other advantages bring you unusual satisfaction, radio entertainment, news, market quotations, etc. Let your own ears tell you! Come in and ask us for demonstration. No obligation, of course.

SPECIAL TERMS

Henry Anderson

Local Dealer

ARROWWOOD

ALTA.

E. D. ARCHAMBAULT

Barber - Arrowwood
Patronize Home Industry and Keep the Money in Our Own Town

Arrowwood Barber Shop

Clocks Watches, Spectacles,
Sewing Machines,
Typewriters and Gramophones

Cleaned and Repaired by an Expert workman with 40 years experience in Factories, Etc.

If you are contemplating the purchase of a new watch see us before doing so.
A. ANDERSON
Jeweler Arrowwood

WAGIN' TUNG

Vol. 5, No. 6. Arrowwood, Oct. 24, 1935. Items for That

Have You Seen
the new
Smith-Built
Batteries
?

When you need a new storage battery for car or radio, see what we have to offer in a Smith-built Battery. This is an Alberta product and you make your own guarantee. Best of all, the price is right.

British American Fuel and Lubroating Products

And in the meantime — "Watch the Fords Go By."

Good Equipment Makes a Good Farmer Better

Larsen Implements

"House of Service"

ARROWWOOD and MOSSLEIGH